

County Prepares to Sell Tax Deeded Property

Preparations for the sale of thousands of parcels of tax-deeded land throughout the county were being made today by County Tax Collector Howard Byram, following an opinion of the courts holding that the former owner is eligible to buy this property at a delinquent tax sale. The next sale will be about Dec. 23.

About 2,500 requests to buy tax-deeded property are on file in the tax sales office in the Hall of Justice, Deputy Frank Murphy said. Murphy's staff now is going through the list of tax-deeded properties to determine the amount of taxes due. This sum is the minimum bid that can be considered, in line with the present policy of the board of supervisors.

Out of the 2,500 property owners who have filed bids on their tax-deeded property, only about 200 bids of the minimum amount of taxes are expected by Byram's office. In other instances, the amount of unpaid taxes is more than the property is conceivably worth, it is said, and it may be necessary for the supervisors to change this policy and accept less.

Several sales of tax-deeded lands will be held during the year 1947, Byram said, because of the decision of the District Court of Appeal Monday holding that the former owner is eligible to buy back his property. Results of the December sale will be closely watched but it is believed that another sale may be held as early as January.

"Everyone who knows anything about the subject knows that the former owner of tax-deeded property is potentially the best available bidder because the validity of his title will not be contested," County Counsel J. H. O'Connor said in commenting on the decision this week.

LOS ANGELES—With 9,043 students registered, the Los Angeles campus of the University of California closed its enrollment books last week and announced the largest enrollment in history.

The 9,043 students registered this year represents 521 more than last year's 8,522 students—which gives us better than a six per cent increase," points out Registrar Harry M. Showman. Of the grand total, there were 4,657 men students and 4,386 women students.

MANUFACTURING EVIDENCE

A policeman on the beat was puzzled by the appearance of a house. It was a large place, and although the time was well past midnight, every room from attic to basement was well lighted. At last he decided to make inquiries.

"It's quite all right, constable," said the man who answered the doorbell. "Nothing to be alarmed about. You see, my wife's been away for a month and of course, I've written and told her how lonely I've been. Well, I'm just making sure the electric meter doesn't give me away."
